

Value to Examining or Certification Bodies

expand responsibility to ensure learning is taking place

it is important for certification bodies to make sure that learning is taking place rather than just relying on students passing exams. dtiMetrics can provide a detailed audit trail of student performance via pre-training assessments, in-training assessments and post-training assessments across all learning objectives. This would allow you to monitor for example the quality of training providers or the success rate of across objectives to see if any need re-writing.

develop new business opportunities

dtiMetrics is an easy to use hosted solution that does not require integrating with internal IT systems, does not require you learn a complicated administration system, allows students to enrol themselves and does not require you to become specialist test authors. It offers examining bodies the opportunity of generating additional revenue streams by selling seats on the system to authorised training providers. Our dedicated staff of writers are able to turn your materials into a bullet proof set of assessments that can be incorporated into dtiMetrics and launched in a matter for days.
